ROUND MOUNTAIN MINES ACTIVITY

Editor Bonanza—

Certain of my friends in various parts of Nevada have written me that reports are being circulated to the effect that both the lode and placer mines of the Round Mountain Mining company were about to be closed down.

The placer mine of the Round Mountain Mining company is being operated and it is our intention to continue operations. The yardage this season will average $1 per yard or better. It is true that the main hydraulic season is over, but we are carrying on limited hydraulic operations, are cleaning the bedrock exposed by the hydraulic operations earlier in the season, and the clean-up of the main tailrace has not yet been made. The main tailrace clean-up will be made in September. In other words, we are doing the same work this year and on the same scale as in the past. A reinforced concrete dam is being built upon the Round Mountain Extension property by the Round Mountain Mining company, and the water from North Star and Jefferson creeks will be directed to this dam. The completion of the dam will permit of hydraulic operations being carried on over a longer period, as we can begin operations earlier and continue them later in the season. Extensive drilling indicates that the placer deposits of this company have hardly been touched, as 20 years' operations are indicated, upon the basis of 100,000 yards per year. We have a large area and very drilled.

With reference to the lode mine: We have an immense tonnage of low grade ore developed and were of the opinion that we might be able to make the lode mine operations profitable if worked on a fairly large scale, even under present conditions. A trial of this developed that it could not be done and we have therefore restricted our lode operations to two or three places in the mine where we are mining high grade ore, a grade of ore that is profitable under the present cost of labor, materials and commodities. The widely separated and smaller veins we have found more profitable to lease and have now 12 leases in operation.

We admit without argument that we, and all gold miners, are handicapped by present conditions. We are producing the only thing in the world that has not increased in value during the last few years and are doing all we can to hold the community together until such time as all gold miners go out of business with their flags at half mast, or the folly of asking gold mines to compete with printing presses is realized. It is going to be tragic if certain large creditors of this nation and others, and the holders of inflated bond issues by corporations should take a notion to demand payment in gold, as promised.

However, this statement has to do with our mining operations and with respect to those operations I can state that we will not close down as long as there is a fighting chance. At the Fairview we have been carrying on the work vigorously and have opened what appears to be an important ore body 500 feet south of the zone in which we have been mining for the past three years. The mill is being operated three shifts. The Fairview will not be immediately closed down, in fact, we have the machinery on the ground for increasing the mill capacity.

Until such time as we are forced out of business by a government, supposedly upon a gold standard, but doing nothing to ameliorate the difficulties under which we are laboring, except to give three rousing cheers for the gold miners—we will continue to operate and do the best we can.

Sincerely,
L. D. GORDON

JAPS CENSORING PRESS IN KOREA

(Correspondence of Associated Press)

TOKYO, June 24. As befitting the freedom of the press in Korea, promised by the Japanese government in that country, a Seoul dispatch in the Asahi says that the To-Nippon (The Far Eastern Daily News) has been subject to suspension because of the publication of "anti-nationalist articles," that is to say, anti-Japanese. The Asahi says the government general thinks that the general attitude of the newspaper toward the administration is "too reprehensible" to be allowed to continue. The journal adds that there is a tendency among the Korean newspapers to give publicity to articles which the authorities think fit to suppress.

The promise of the new government was to permit freedom of the press so long as it did not endanger law and order.

UNION WOOL COMPANY IS FINANCIALLY SOUND

In a telegram from Mr. Humphrey of the Union Wool company, received at Reno and forwarded to interested parties in Las Vegas, it was stated that the checking up of the affairs of the company, which has been in progress for some time, showed that the assets were in excess of liabilities to the extent of about $1,000,000. Due to large investments and the recent decline in the wool market, reports have been current that the company was insolvent. The examination of the books at Boston has shown this to be quite contrary to fact. (Las Vegas Review-Miner)

AMUSEMENTS

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG

AT THE BUTLER TODAY

Clara Kimball Young, in "The Forbidden Woman," which is to be presented at the Butler theater today, is a moving picture production that ranks with productions like "The Miracle Man" and "Eyes of Youth," both of which are outstanding successes in the realm of moving pictures.

The story is from the pen of Lenore J. Coffee, a Los Angeles newspaper woman, and involves the career of a brilliant beautiful actress in a rare Parisian love story. The tragic circumstances which cause her to leave Paris for a friendly haven in America, her subsequent annihilation of self and redemption from worldly affairs, the money which leads her from sorrow to romance and from romance to love with all its attendant misunderstandings and the happy ending forms a story of rare charm, and affords a vehicle for the star of the highest and most idealized form of entertainment. It might well be said that no actress on stage or screen surpasses Clara Kimball Young in brilliancy of characterization, beauty and histrionic art. A most notable cast supports Miss Young, headed by Conway Tearle, in a play in the program is a one-act play subject "The Sky Mountains."

Tomorrow, Charles Ray, in "The Bachelor," a delightful musical comedy, with the usual Charles Ray laughs. Also a Mark Taper two-act comedy, "The Star Boarder." Coming Monday, Anna Stewart in a first moving picture and first stage picture, "In Old Kentucky."

Menko of Reno; and Edward E. Dase of Ely. Three more selections are to be made in order to fill the state's quota of eighteen men entitled to make the trip at the expense of the U. S. government.

NOTED DOG KILLED

(Correspondence Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 17.—Lady, a Belgian police dog who successfully dodged shot and shell while serving as mascot for the Second Division, A. E. F., was struck and killed by an automobile here the other day. Former comrades with whom she was living after having been "discharged" from service, buried her in a squalid casket and with a bottle smashed taps over her grave.

NEW JAPANESE SHIPS.
